In Re: Wickre Notice of Terms Of Use/Acceptable Use Violations
This ainhell.us/blog
Rackspace Case No.: AB-C24276757C

Dear Mr. Schoenbaum,

Our law firm represents Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Wickre, of Bethesda MD. We are writing to advise you that a blog you are hosting at www.thisainhell.us is in violation of your Software/Hosting Terms of Use and is potentially violating various state laws. We request that the blogs relating to Paul Wickre and Karen Williams be disabled immediately, and/or the entire license be revoked on the following grounds contained in this letter. The threads that are of primary concern are:

<http://thisainhell.us/blog/?p=36103> Paul Wickre Your one stop shopping
<http://thisainhell.us/blog/?p=36171#comments> Monkress explains how he told his dad he was joining the US Navy SEALs

<http://thisainhell.us/blog/?p=30777> Phillip Dale Monkress; phony SEAL in FL The majority of the posts that are offensive are in this last thread, at about 1900 posts.

This letter and addendums involve the following violations of the Terms of Service for your site
1) Mature Language/Porn; 2) Inciting violence, threats, abuse, harassment; 3) Defamation and Libel; 4) Violation of the Privacy of Mr. Wickre and Mrs. Williams; 5) Copyright Violations of the State of Maryland; and 6) Boosting the Search Engine Rankings of the Google Search page/rank algorithm.

Per your terms of acceptable use the blogger may not host offensive comments, that we will prove in our complaint and appendix. These go to the following in your Policies:

- Bestiality, non-consensual sex acts such as forcible rape
- Incites violence threatens violence and or contains harassing content or hate speech
- Is defamatory or violates a persons privacy
- Solicits conduct that is illegal under the general Law ( state Codes of Statutes)
- Is malicious.

All of these violations will be shown, and we insist that the offensive content of the blog be taken down immediately, per your discretion “Rackspace reserves the right to take down or terminate use of its services at its sole discretion”

Overview of the Complaints:

The emphasis of the blog , while in parallel, relates to the general classification of content. The blog authors may change the emphasis from Mr. Monkress to Mr. Wickre, but the violations remain similar.

The Blog is being used to conspire, plan and activate numerous harassing phone calls, email campaigns, and at least one Denial of Service attack. The site has shown malice and intent to destroy jobs, careers and interrupt lives. There has been telephone harassment of 40-50 calls, which is being investigated by at least two State’s Attorneys, as to about 8-10 victims including my clients. The blog threads call for murder, mayhem, maiming, torture, and go into every conceivable sex act, sex devices, including homosexuality, masturbation, bestiality anal rape, and sado-masochism. Most recently the bloggers have threatened to appear at my clients house. Shamelessly they even state a visit to my client’s parents’ cemetery to defile graves.” ChipNASA Says:

June 21st, 2013 at 10:02 am

@1333 Bobo,

My grandmother is also buried there. I used to drive by there every day on the way to work and wave to her.

MAYBE NEXT TIME ANYONE IS BY PARKLAWN, just behind the FDA building, just off Veirs Mill Rd, in Rockville Maryland in Montgomery County, Mary-farking-land, maybe they could stop by and “drop” Carrie Mae “Kay” Haynes Wickre, Paul K. Wickre’s mother a little gift.

/what say you Paul??

//That should start some shit.

///Maybe out Paulie over the edge....hmmmmmm

This blogster also actually writes content as to my client, having necrophiliac sex with his mothers corpse in another post.

The defamation and libel on these threads run the gamut from falsely alleging that my client is mentally unstable, an alcoholic, an abuser, misogynist, user of narcotics, a cross dresser, bankrupt, , a racist, a transgender specialist, and it also states false law enforcement convictions, among many other false claims.

In an effort to denigrate Mr. Wickre, a Vice President at APL, the blog “researchers” trace his ancestry, duplicate his mother’s obituary, castigate his job, career and work, call for official investigations, falsely report his civil/criminal record, and much more. Mrs. Wickre who is a Capitol Hill Staffer for a senior member of Congress, who has nothing to do with this blog whatsoever, has also had her position, employment, pay grade, background, location and relationship with Mr. Wickre vilified. Furthermore, her private sex life is debased and exposed for all to speculate on.

The bloggers continually call for action in the form of kneecapping, beating Mr. Wickre with a 2x4, threats of visiting the family home, attacking the home with military grade weapons, calling their private work and cell numbers, sending more direct emails, and turning over my clients to various investigative authorities.

The bloggers have also publicized Mr. Wickre’s civil and criminal record. This information is available on a web based browser owned and sponsored by the State of Maryland. The State has terms of use which must be read and agreed and strict rules of access, under the State Code. Here the owners of the blog, bypass the State access policies and directly post on Google unedited and incomplete data for all to see, bypassing the access policies.

Finally, as a direct combined effort, the blog posters work in concert to take the most denigrating information and artificially boost the Google page/rank algorithm to insure that the most negative information appear at the top of the first page. Details of this will be shown and involve the blog administrator who openly writes of artificially boosting the page rank to defame and harm Mr. Wickre.

Background

This blog has been in existence for 3-4 years and is run by retired or active Military that seek out individuals, whom in their estimation falsely received an award or commendation. The Supreme Court in United States v. Alvarez, 567 U. S. ____ (2012), heard arguments on the Stolen Valor Act, which made it a crime to falsely claim that you have won a military medal. The Supreme Court ruled that the display of decorations or medals incorrectly worn, was not a Criminal or Civil Offense and was protected speech under the First Amendment.

Not satisfied with the outcome of Law, this Internet band of vigilantes, has taken it on themselves to accuse, denigrate, report to the authorities, run back ground checks on traffic, civil records, defame with malice, conspire among themselves to destroy careers, livelihoods or companies and smear it over their blog as the only indictments that they can hurl. Their intent is to destroy careers, and particularly the careers of Veteran owned businesses that legitimately hold Federal Contracts. That is their motive and their tactics are reprehensible. This is a violent crowd with over 60% of the bloggers seeing combat action and 85% polled owning weapons. This gives my client great concern and reasonable fear for his safety and the safety of his family.

Mr. Monkress CEO of APL, was accused of claiming a Navy Seal Team IV status from his Navy service. He was called out for claiming Native American owned basis for set-aside contracts. These facts are in dispute. Mr. Monkress does have Service Disabled Veteran Owned Status. The Military blog, believes his company has received false enrichment, by claiming these statuses, which he never did and one is not an entitlement (Navy Seal Team IV). This had been going on some time, when Mr. Monkress took legal action which infuriated the Vets.

Mr. Wickre then got involved and wrote very noble and highline defenses of Mr. Monkrees including references to the Bible, 10 Commandments, the sin of bearing false witness and so on. The bloggers then turned their attention to Mr. Wickre and were determined to tar him with Mr. Monkress, tie the two together and make the worst aspersions possibly known in the English language as to vile acts, sex, threats, torture, and rape.

Ms. Williams is the wife of Mr. Wickre and is a quiet non-involved actor. Because of her relationship to Mr. Wickre the bloggers decided to personally attack her and put her personal information on the website, in an attempt to harm Mr. Wickre further. Her privacy has been severely disturbed for nothing more than being married.

The Bloggers have also confused and merged the identity of two distinctly different Paul Wickre's. One Paul Wickre is my client, a 57 year old Defense and Homeland Security Contractor, residing in Washington DC, with very little, if any, web history. However there is a second Paul Wickre who writes under the blog name of "Godless." This Paul Wickre is about 40, located in India, allied with the web through a 10 year old blog written by Steve Sailer, called "Gene Expression." This site espouses misogamy's, attacks transsexuals, denigrates women, is homophobic and racist. Gene Expressions actively advocated eugenics of the race by controlling and enforcing forced sterilization, Nazi like.

The blog contributors cannot separate and believe Paul Wickre in Washington DC, defender of Mr. Monkress, and the "Godless" writer are not one and the same. Thus they have heaped added enmity for my client, based on the perceived anti-social views of "Godless" Paul Wickre. The only linkage that exists to this 10 year old site of racist-misogynist Indian located Paul Wickre and my client in Washington DC, is the Rackhosting/Rackspace Hosting "This Ain't Hell website". For this reason alone, the website/license and URL has to be pulled, immediately as extremely defamatory to my client, as to paint him in the worst terms, by the blog contributors who are not aware of their mistake, but have essentially combined identities.

The call for this conduct comes from the blog and is repeated over and over again. In addition vile and violent acts of conduct are called for repeatedly.

This behavior not only violates your Terms of Service but it is also obscene, harassing and threatening communications by computer. The calls have come from a self identified blog poster in Missoula, Montana. The Internet registrar indicates the identity, self exposed on the blog as:

Jon, I'm missing something here. If some dickhead threatened or otherwise harassed my family I would not wait for him to cross a county line, I would find him for a friendly up close and personal discussion probably involving a 2 x 4. Then again, I'm one of those "Army veterans" you frequently see mentioned in the media in conjunction with bad things happening to bad people. Why do you put up with this shit?

You know, get those muscles loosened up. Save yourselves some pain later on.

Also, @1626/1627: Every time I call him, he ignores me. He sees the number come up and says “awe shit, not old Trooper, again”!

Seriously, I figure he just comes here when he gets loaded.

Notice, in both of those article he pops up in defense of the douchebag in question. Times being what they are, Paul was defending his lover/paid-escort. Maybe he was so loud in his defense because he feared the loss of their little meetings, with Draino going in and out of orifices. Ballgags lovingly shared. Taking turns nailing each other on the tops of desks. It frightened him and he struck out in anger at being so a-feared.

You'll have some nasty chemical burns in the morning if you do. Just reinforcing that point, since you seem hammered again and it could easily happen.

Moreover, your customers have represented to you that they "will be in compliance with these terms of service", as to even their direct commentary. However, there are aspersions as to Mr. Wickre, being mentally unstable, coming from a psychiatric ward, being an adulterer, a serial bigamist, an alcoholic, cocaine abuser, committing multiple unnamed felonies, a general predator, and a liar, all without any basis in truth, conviction or proof.

And even if it is, she might be a fine person who had the poor taste to marry a taint-licker. I might, however, make her aware of this and other threads so she can prepare to defend herself. If I can figure out her identity, so can others. If she's a decent person she'll be abjectly appalled at his antics here and given her position might need to start taking steps to protect herself.

The exact email I sent read:

You probably don't know me, but I run the military blog "This Ain't Hell" as a retired veteran. We "out" phony military pretenders. We recently outed your husband's employer, Phil Monkress, as a fake Navy SEAL. For some reason, your husband, as a result, has begun harassing my daughter and my wife. Usually he starts his harassing phone calls at about 10 PM so it seems to me that you're not giving him "what he needs", if you know what I mean. He has an extensive arrest record for that type of behavior, but, apparently, he's too much of a coward to engage in that activity outside of Montgomery County. He has falsely represented himself as an officer of the court and as sheriff deputies to me and my family. I'm pretty sure that's illegal, but you're the one with the JD, so you probably know that better than I.

Anyway, I'd like to ask you to service your husband in a wifely manner so he doesn't take his frustration out on me and my family. Or he can come to my home, right outside DC (he knows the address) and we can discuss his obviously frustrated behavior.

Thank you for your time and your consideration in this matter.

Here the malice can clearly be found as to boost the page-rank algorithm, to take the most derogatory entries and either manually hit the browser again and again, or use a Google web page to do the same. This little blog is ranked 168,000 in the US, but is fanning the flames of all of these abuses, over and over again to make the bloggers's defamatory, libelous, pornographic, threatening and abusive speech known to destroy the standing of my clients, destroy their reputation and prevent them from gaining employment, or worse as noted from yesterdays blog.:

Though, I must ask you a rather interesting question. Since you have been throwing around so many people's personal information so much, have you checked on your own? I mean, have you checked your credit recently? What about your tax identification number? Oh, and have you had to check on your Social Security Number use? It's not fun and can be quite costly to get everything back in order.

I'm not saying this as a threat as I don't know if you have been affected by anything. I'm just saying that it is amazing how someone who is anonymous can screw up someone's life if they get pissed at them. So, just consider this a public service announcement, Paul Wickre (google hit).

Fat chance. Any "truce" dissipated the moment that Lawyer Lori called me. It further dissipated when you, Paul Wickre, started calling me and my family. None of the Monkress posts or Wickre posts are coming down. Ever. There's nothing you can do about it legally or otherwise.

Yeah, I closed the other discussion because I'm too lazy to troll those 1900 comments for Wickre's crap and it's getting unmanageable. I may open it back up later if it slides too far down the search engine results.

So, the word on the street is that Psul is looking for a job. I guess this post being one of the top Google searches on his name will not help much. Sorry, Psul.

Nik sayeth: #1685 – I suspect he's a frightened angry little man who realizes the world is spinning out of whatever scant control he had on his life. He doesn't quite know how it happened but knows it's happening.

Concur! So, Paul K. Wickre thinks I'm a "vile worm" for linking to his mothers obituary, hmm. Matter of fact Mr. Wickre THAT is a matter of public record, easily located on the internet via diligent research. Oh yea, by properly hyperlinking the source you cannot claim any of us wrote it, hacked it, cracked it or even dreamt it up, pal.
